

MANAJEMEN HUBUNGAN PELANGGAN (CRM)

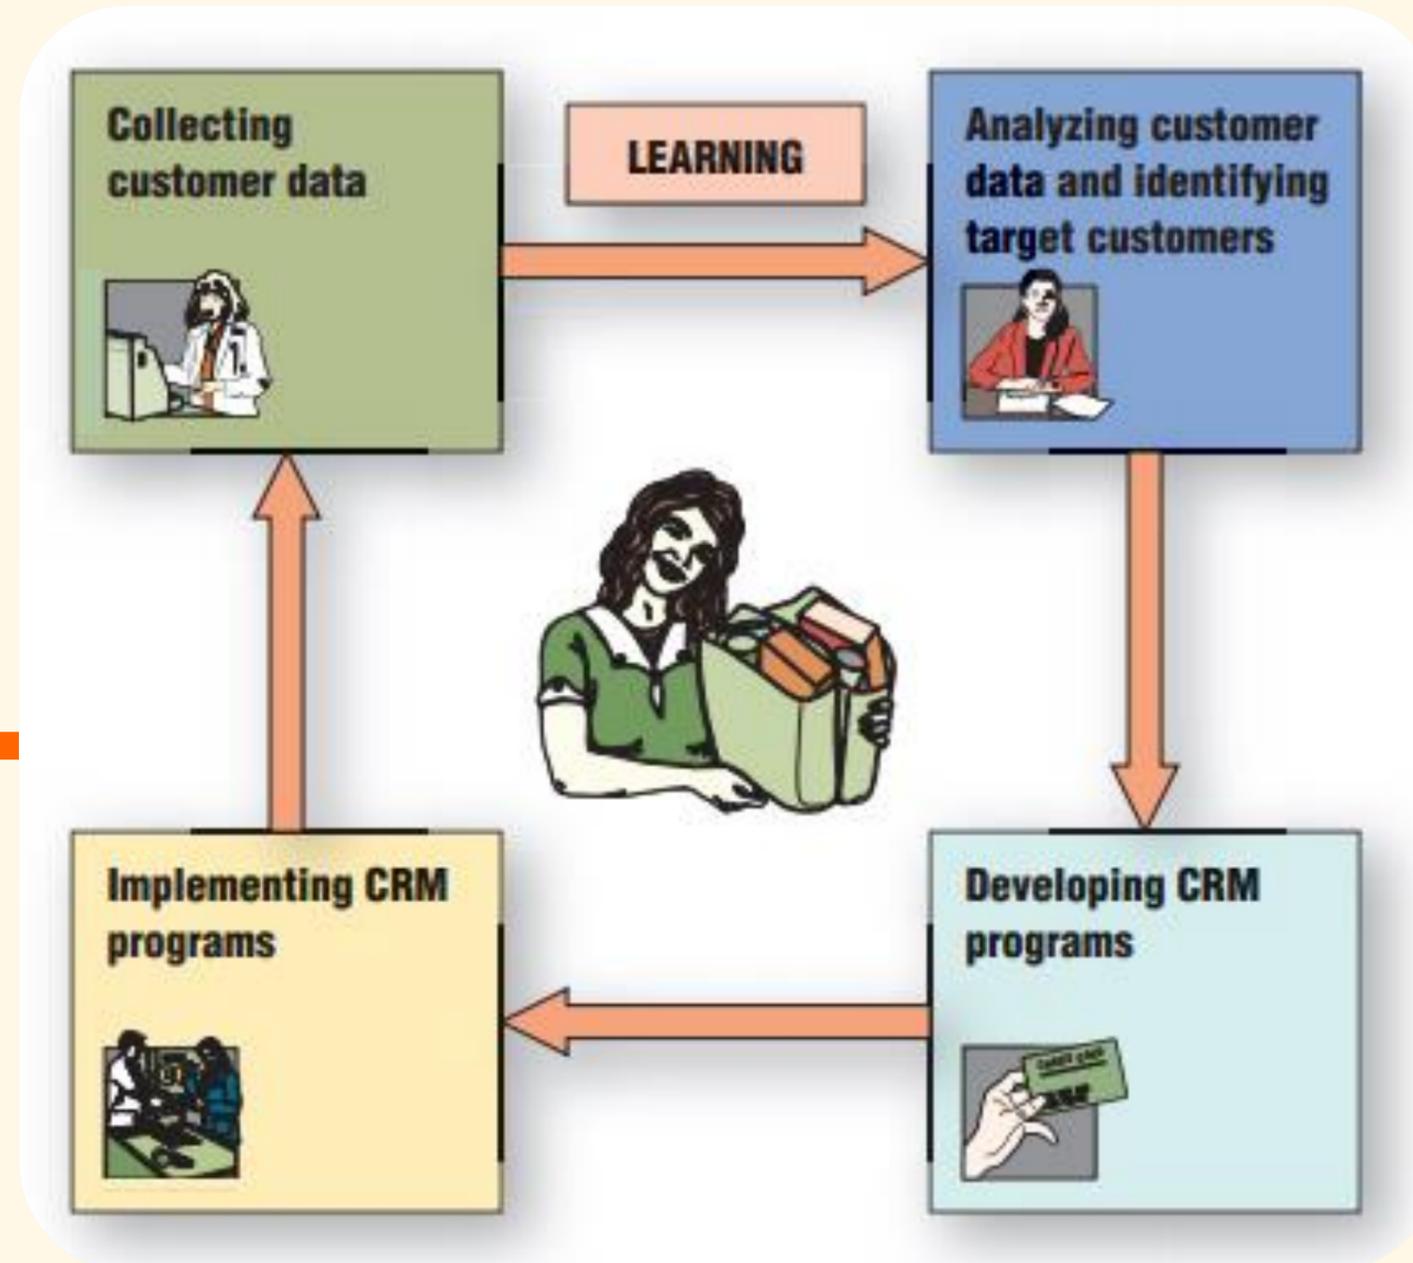

MANAJEMEN BISNIS RITEL
2020

Aryan Eka Prastya Nugraha

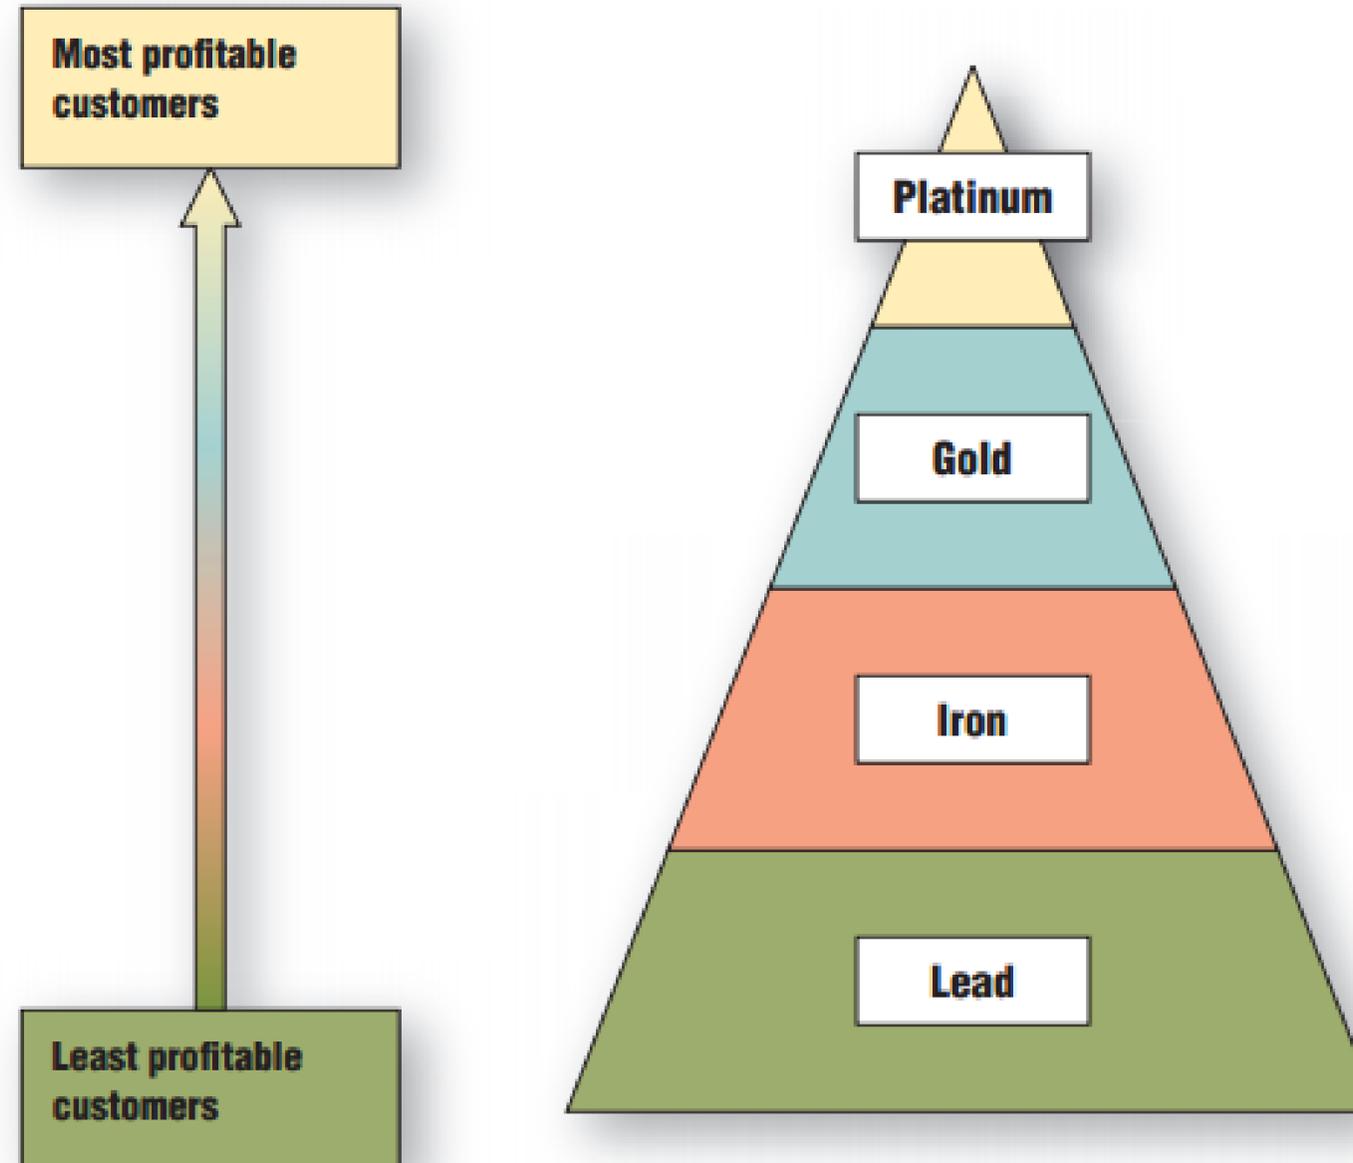

The objective of the CRM process is to develop loyalty and repeat-purchase behavior among a retailer's best customers. Customer loyalty is more than having customers satisfied with a retailer and making repeat visits.

Customer loyalty means that customers are committed to purchasing merchandise and services from the retailer and will resist the activities of competitors attempting to attract their patronage.

The Customer Pyramid

Platinum Segment This segment is composed of the customers with the top 25 percent CLVs. Typically, these are the most profitable and loyal customers who, because of their loyalty, are typically not overly concerned about prices. Customers in this quartile buy a lot of the merchandise sold by the retailer and often place more value on customer service than price.

Gold Segment The next quartile of customers, in terms of their CLVs, make up the gold segment. Even though they buy a significant amount of merchandise from the retailer, they are not as loyal as platinum customers and patronize some of the retailer's competitors.

Iron Segment The customers in this quartile purchase a modest amount of merchandise, but their spending levels, loyalty, and profitability are not substantial enough for special treatment.

Lead Segment Customers with the lowest CLVs can make a negative contribution to the firm's income. They often demand a lot of attention but do not buy much from the retailer.
